Individually-Based Freedoms and Protections
Limitations and Rights Modifications
For Provider Owned, Operated or Controlled Residential Settings Only

When you receive services in a provider owned, controlled, or operated residential setting such as a Community Care Foster Family Home, Expanded Adult Residential Care Home, or Assisted Living Facility, individual limitations may be used based on specific assessed needs.

Any limitations must be written in your person-centered service plan under “Member’s Rights Modifications”.

These limitations will not be used without your (or your legal representative’s) informed consent.

Limitations may only be considered in the following areas:
- Protection to live under a legal residential agreement, or its equivalent.
- Privacy in your bedroom or living unit.
- A lockable door in your bedroom or living unit.
- Choice of who your roommate will be, if you share a bedroom.
- Furnish and decorate your bedroom or living unit as you choose.
- Freedom and support to control your schedule and activities.
- Freedom and support to have access to food at any time.
- Visitors of your choosing at any time.

For any limitations, the documentation in your person-centered service plan “Member’s Rights Modifications”, must include:
- The reason the limitation is needed.
- Different supports you received before the limitation was put in place.
- The types of things that were tried before and did not work.
- A clear description of how the limitation makes sense based on your assessed needs.
- A way to measure if the limitation is working.
- When the limitation will be reviewed or removed.
- Your (or your legal representative’s) informed consent.
- An assurance that the limitation will not be harmful to you.
